

artcobell

Living Classroom

COURSE TITLE:

Living Classroom (AIA-ABC10225)

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course will take a more in-depth look at the needs of future learning spaces by highlighting aspects like natural elements, flexibility, mobility and creativity of the classroom while keeping the 21st century classroom design needs in mind. A learning space has multiple functions and the activities in the space keep changing based on the style of instruction and the participants. The course will discuss integrating organic living with today's modern technology along with flexible, collaborative classrooms. A key element is understanding how to design a learning environment that supports a variety of pedagogical approaches and learning experiences with natural elements in mind. These elements include: physical environment, sight, sound, movement and emotions.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- » Learn how the 21st century has changed the current classroom design
- » Integrate organic living with today's modern technology along with flexible, collaborative classrooms
- » Understand how the classroom is changing and what the current needs of teachers and students are to help you design a space that is functional in today's world.

COURSE CREDIT:

- » 1.0 CEU

CEU TYPE:

- » Design

